Hershey, PA – Most people in the United States read the phrase “vision 2020,” and immediately think about their last visit to the eye doctor. But, for the priests of the Archeparchy of Philadelphia, and for that matter, all the bishops, priests, and people of the Ukrainian Catholic Church, it is not about seeing clearly – it is, however, about looking to the future of our Church and what we might be in the year 2020. And so, the priests of Archeparchy of Philadelphia, along with Archbishop Soroka gathered together to participate in workshops with an agenda presented by Bishop Ken Novakowski, Eparch of New Westminster, Canada, and Fr. Andriy Onuferko, of the Eparchy of Toronto and Spiritual Director of Holy Spirit Seminary, Ottawa, Ontario. This agenda focused upon the clergy of our Archeparchy becoming the leaders and motivators, who will help enliven our parish churches to be, where anyone who wants to, can experience not merely, religion and ritual, but where all people can come to encounter the living Christ to be saved, nourished, forgiven, healed, consoled, and renewed by the Savior of the World – in our own Ukrainian Catholic Church.

On December 2, 2011, Patriarch Sviatoslav issued a pastoral letter for our church the world over called, “The Vibrant Parish – a place to encounter the living Christ.” The purpose of the letter was to initiate this campaign to rediscover the mission of our Ukrainian Catholic Church and the work it has to accomplish in the (continued on next page) world. In it, our Patriarch Sviatoslav, acting with the Bishops of our Church, invites all of us to actively engage in the spiritual renewal of our Church, and in the apostolic ministry of the evangelization of all peoples. This mission was entrusted to all of us (bishops, priests, religious, and laity) by Christ Himself.

The key components of this effort for spiritual renewal and evangelization are: The Word of God, Holy Mysteries and Prayer, Serving One’s Neighbor, Leadership, Fostering and Serving Unity, and Missionary Spirit of the Parish Community. Actually, none of these endeavors are anything new, but they are, and always have been, the task of the Christian community, and in particular, what all of us who are the Ukrainian Catholic Church must be engaged in, if we are to truly be known as disciples of Jesus.

How do we go about doing this? As part of the strategy, bishops, priests, religious, and laity began to think about what we as a Church have as special, unique, and authentic practices, traditions, rites, rituals, theology, and spirituality. Moreover, there is also the need for us to appreciate that everything necessary for salvation by Jesus Christ can be found within our own Church. We, as the Ukrainian Catholic Church participate in the Universal Mission (as stated in Lumen Gentium) of proclaiming the Gospel to every creature and to bring the light of Christ to all.

The task then centered upon the development of an Instrumentum Laboris (practical plan of action) to retrain, reform, and reinvigorate all the faithful of our Church. We are currently at the stage where our bishops, priests, and deacons are being introduced to developing a pastoral plan for our Archeparchy of Philadelphia and each of its 69 parishes and missions. This is why in March 2012, the first workshop was held at our Cathedral in Philadelphia, and most recently from April 23 – 26, workshops were held in Hershey, Pennsylvania. Future workshops will take place in the early fall of 2012 as the Instrumentum Laboris is put into action with the development of pastoral plans and the introduction of these strategic efforts to our faithful throughout our Archeparchy.

The ancient tradition of our Church recounts the story of the Apostle Andrew visiting and announcing the Good News to what would one day become Kyivan-Rus and the native land of our ancestors, remarking that one day there will be a great people and a great Church. St. Andrew clearly saw into the future and understood. The future Ukrainian nation although, probably could not even imagine, that one day its people would live all over the globe and the Christian message first preached by St. Andrew and then given to all of us by St. Vladimir, would be lived out and practiced by the descendents of that ancient land, not only in Ukraine, but all over the world today. The Ukrainian Catholic Church, as any other Catholic Church, has a vital role to play in spreading the Good News of Jesus to all people and anyone who would like to share in the rich treasure of its liturgy, theology, and spirituality. The year 2020 is not that far away. All of us are called to be part of this vision predicted by the Apostle Andrew, given to us by St. Vladimir, strengthened by the blood of our Martyrs, and entrusted to all of us to share with all peoples as we build, live, and dwell in the Kingdom of God, now and yet to come, proclaimed by our living Savior, Jesus Christ.

Hillside, NJ Parish Celebrates Easter with Hahilky & Easter Egg Hunt

Hillside, NJ – On Sunday, April 15, 2012, after the 10:45am Divine Liturgy, the parishioners of Immaculate Conception Ukrainian Catholic Church gathered in the church hall to watch the children perform hahilky (ritual Spring songs & dances) – under the direction of Odarka Polanskyj Stockert.

Fr. Vasyl Vladyka, parochial vicar, also performed several unique hahilky that he learned when he was a child in Ukraine. The parishioners were in awe of Fr. Vasyl’s special performance. Fr. Vasyl truly brought the “Easter spirit” to this parish event.

Afterwards, Teresa Szpyhulsky and Marta Olesnyckyj organized an Easter Egg Hunt for the children on the parish grounds. A parish Easter meal was served for parishioners and visitors who travelled from throughout Union, Morris, Essex, Middlesex and Monmouth counties.

Please visit the parish website at www.byzcath.org/ImmaculateConception to view additional photographs of the event.

Fr. Vasyl Vladyka, Anna Pelesz and Odarka Polanskyj Stockert pose with the children as they eagerly await the start of the Easter Egg Hunt at the Hillside parish.

The Hahilka Zhoochok (i.e. the Beetle Dance) is a song and dance that describes a beetle that comes alive in the Spring and celebrates his festive attire by walking on a fir tree branch. During the dance, the children form two rows and create a bridge. The smallest of the children walk over the branch and then return via the tunnel that the other dancers have created.

The Hahilka Zajchik is a song and dance about a zajchik (rabbit) running in a meadow gathering beautiful flowers. The children catch the rabbit before it runs away.

The children enjoy the Easter Egg Hunt!

Odarka Polanskyj Stockert lead the children in Hahilky.

The children perform Hahilka Viu Vinecz (i.e. Making a wreath). At the end, this particular hahilka involves a unique spiral formation.

In remembrance of Bishop John Stock on the 40th anniversary of his death

Savior of thousands of Ukrainian Displaced Persons throughout Western Europe after World War II

On Apr. 22, the last seminar of the Spring Semester of the “Saint Sophia” Religious Association of Ukrainian Catholics in the USA and the Shevchenko Scientific Society (Philadelphia Branch) was dedicated in memoriamp to the 40th anniversary of the unexpected passing into the Kingdom of the Lord of Bishop John Stock. Since Bishop Stock was the pastor of Annunciation of the Blessed Virgin Mary Ukrainian Catholic Church in Melrose Park, Pennsylvania (1971-72), the seminar took place in the church hall immediately following the Divine Liturgy celebrated by His Grace Most Rev. Stefan Soroka, Metropolitan-Archbishop of Philadelphia for Ukrainian Catholics in the United States. The co-celebrants were: Most Rev. Basil H. Losten, Bishop Emeritus of the Eparchy of Stamford, Connecticut, Msgr. Peter Waslo, Chancellor and Judicial Vicar of the Philadelphia Archeparchy, and Rev. Ihor Royik, pastor of Annunciation parish.

In his sermon, Metropolitan Stefan spoke, in both languages, about the holy, priestly life and accomplishments of Bishop John Stock.

Following the Divine Liturgy, the parishioners and a significant number of guests descended into the church hall, where the stage was decorated with flowers and a portrait of Bishop John Stock. The pastor, Rev. Ihor Royik, welcomed everyone and introduced the Master of Ceremonies, Prof. Albert Kipa, a renowned Germanist, known throughout the Ukrainian Diaspora. The program commenced with a prayer by His Grace, followed by an extended biographical sketch of Bishop Stock by the President of the Philadelphia Branch of the Shevchenko Scientific Society, Dr. Yaroslav Zalipsky. The keynote speaker was Bishop Basil H. Losten, who elaborated on the letter written by then-U.S.Army Chaplain Rev. John Stock to Metropolitan Ambrose Senyshyn concerning the plight of Ukrainian refugees in postwar Europe.

A short in memoriam followed, written by Msgr. Ronald Popivchak, Ph.D. (who was unable to attend), and read by Prof. Albert Kipa. Msgr. Popivchak is the pastor of SS. Peter and Paul Ukrainian Catholic Church in Bridgeport, PA. The next speaker, Nicholas Rudnytzky, Associate Registrar at Manor College in Jenkintown, PA, read an interview between Msgr. Leon Mosko and Alexander Lushnycky, Ph.D., an American ethnic historian. Msgr. Mosko is the “golden-tongued” homilist who wanted to participate in this in memoriam event but could not for health reasons. The last speaker was Dr. Alexander Lushnycky, who shared his many years of pleasant memories of Bishop Stock.

A parishioners-sponsored light buffet followed the commemorative conference honoring Bishop John Stock.

Митрополит-Архиєпископ Стефан Сорока виголошує проповідь в Українській Католицькій Церкві Благовіщення Пречистої Діви Марії, Мелроуз Парк, ПА під час Літургії в пам’ять єпископа Івана Стаха 22-го квітня, 2012 р.

Христос Воскрес!

Останньої неділі ми чули як Ісус сказав до апостола Томи: «Благословенний, хто не бачив і увіривав». Сьогодні ми пригадуємо жінок-міроносиць, які бачили як Ісус клали до гробу, але не бачили як він Воскрес. Вони прийшли до гробу, щоб помазати тіло Ісуса. Вони повірили в його воскресіння, коли ангел сказав їм, що Ісус воскрес. Вони вірили достатньо, щоб піти й сказати апостолам і Петрові, що Ісус немає в гробі, що Він Воскрес і зустрінеться з ними пізніше.

Ці жінки-міроносиці показують вам і мені ту віру, якої жадається від кожного з нас. Це віра, яка полягає в любові та надії. Ці жінки любили Ісуса і вірили, що він є Месією, який здійснить їхні надії. Ці жінки практикували чесноти християнського життя — віру, надію та любов. Вони також були достатньо відважні, щоб піти до гробу, який охороняли воїни, бо боялися того, що Ісус обіцяв — що він воскресне на третій день. Ці жінки виявили відвагу тоді, коли інші сходилися від страху та розгубленості через те, що сталося. Жінки також виявили сміливість, коли разом з Йосифом Ариматейським зняли тіло з Хреста і поклали його до гробу. Це було великою відвагою і для Йосифа Ариматейського — піти до Пилата та просити віддати йому тіло Ісуса.

Щоб бути сьогодні християнином треба також мати відвагу. Дорога доброго християнина не є популярна. Треба бути сміливим, щоб йти за Ісусом у сьогоднішньому щоденному житті. Треба бути відважним, щоб втримати християнську родину. Треба бути відважним, щоб жити за християнськими стандартами. Джерелом цієї відваги є наша віра та надія на Воскресного Ісуса Христа. Ви чули про це у яскравому зображенні життя Петра і Йоана в Діяннях Апостолів. Справді, це щось надзвичайне, провести час в присутності Ісуса, який уповноважує людей.

Сьогодні ми особливо пригадуємо важливе служіння покійного єпископа Івана Стаха, який помер сорок років тому. Релігійне товариство українців католиків «Свята Софія» організувало сьогоднішнє поминання цього надзвичайного служителя.

Церква в США. Помітною конференція, на яку запрошуюмо всіх бажаючих, відбудеться в парафіяльному залі після Божественної літургії. Конференція буде проходити на англійській мові. Я проголошує частину проповіді в сподіванні на присутність членів родини покійного Єпископа Івана Стаха.

(Продовження на ст. 17)
Митрополит-Архиєпископ Стефан Сорока виголошує проповідь підчас Літургії в пам’ять єпископа Івана Стаха.
(продовження з попередньої сторінки)

Ми вдячні виконавчому комітету «Святої Софії» за їхню уважність до свідчення пам’яті покійного Єпископа Івана Стаха. Також ми дякуємо отцеві Ігореві Роіку і парафіянам за їхнє щедре прийняття цих поминань.

Мені не пощастило бути знайомим з покійним єпископом Іваном Стахом. Але я чуva гарних свідчень про його служіння як священника та єпископа. Він був рукоположеним на священника в 1943-му році покійним єпископом Константином Богачевським. Коли завершилася Друга світова війна, Європа лежала в руїні. Багато українців стали переміщеними особами, оскільки комуністи захопили Україну. Тоді, в серпні 1946-го року, отець Іван Стах був посланий єпископом Богачевським в Європу, щоб помогати тисячам переміщених осіб. Отець Іван Стах з відчаю та вяківківством помогав українцям аж до часу свого повернення в 1952-му році. Після повернення він служив секретарем Архиєпископа Амброзія Сенишина, потім Канцлером Стенфордської епархії, аж до рукоположення на єпископа-помічника Митрополита Сенишина у Філадельфії в 1971-му році. У червні 1972-го року єпископ Іван Стах загинув у фатальній автомобільній аварії.

Служіння нашого дорогого єпископа Івана Стаха відкрило його любов до Бога та до Його Церкви. Він приймав усі свої пастирські призначення у спосіб, який відображає життя радісного жертвування через його любов до Воскресеного Христа. Його служіння включало пастирські призначення в багато наших парафій, капеланом сестер службниць Непорохової Діви Марії, помічником в Канцелярії. Постійне підвищення в чинах та почасних відзнак, яких він був удостоєний, свідчать про його високе визнання. Його служіння було високо оцінене багатьма. Багато осіб скористали з його служіння. Єпископ Іван Стах відчував глибоке співувати до переміщених українців в Європі. Його праця з National Catholic Welfare Conference була важлива й цінна. У ній отець Іван Стах вказував віддати у захист інтересів українців і багатьох допоміг перебратися до Америки. Його голос та активна позиція помогли багатьом переміщеним українцям знайти домівку в Західній Європі, чи в Північній Америці, щоб не бути поверненим до окупаованої комуністами України. Завдання було не з легких, доводилося долати багато перепон. Отець Іван Стах присвятив шість років свого життя служінню українцям таким благородним способом. Отець Іван Стах їшов слідами Господа Ісус у пошуку загублених і радості віднайдення їх. Він залишив досягнення безпечне та зручне оточення для пошуку загублених. Я вірю, що душа нашого дорогого Єпископа Івана Стаха постійно перебуває при столі святкування з тими, хто присвятився служінню загубленим.

Homily offered by Metropolitan-Archbishop Stefan Soroka during the Liturgy in remembrance of Bishop John Stock on April 22, 2012 at Annunciation of the Blessed Virgin Mary Ukrainian Catholic Church in Melrose Park, PA.

We are grateful to the St. Sophia Religious Association in their taking the initiative in today’s commemoration of the late Bishop John Stock who died forty years ago. This Liturgy and the commemorative program arose from their desire to give living testimony to the contributions of the late bishop John Stock. We are grateful to Bishop Basil Losten for his prayerful participation today in this Liturgy and in the program to follow. We thank Msgr. Peter Waslo, our Chancellor, for his participation, and especially to the pastor, Fr. Ihor Royik for his warm hospitality and organization of today’s commemoration at this Ukrainian Catholic Church of the Annunciation of the Blessed Virgin Mary, a parish where the late Bishop John Stock once served as a dedicated pastor. We thank all of the parishioners and all of the guests who give honor and testimony to the ministry of the late Bishop John Stock who have joined us today.

In Ukrainian I spoke of the tremendous courage shown by the myrrh-bearing women we heard of today’s Gospel, and of the similar courage shown by the then Father John Stock in ministering to the displaced persons in Western Europe following the Second World War. His courage and persistence resulted in many persons successfully emigrating to the USA and to other western countries. His efforts ensured that they were not forced to return to face persecution in the communist occupied Ukraine. His dedicated six years of service in the interests of displaced persons necessitated his making aggressive arguments and efforts for the persons he was helping. Father John Stock showed gentle but consistent and effective courage in serving God and His people.

I personally was never privileged to have met the late Bishop John Stock. I have heard much about his dedication in his ministry. Everyone who speaks of him repeatedly emphasizes how exceptionally nice Bishop John Stock was as a person – gentle, caring, a good listener, eager to help, and a joy to speak with and to share his company. I wondered just what gave him such a Christ-like manner and such strength and perseverance even in times of hardships.

You will recall the disciples on the road to Emmaus pleaded with the stranger who they came to recognize as the Risen Christ to “STAY WITH US”! They found that Jesus would remain with them when “he was known to them in the breaking of the bread” (Lk 24:35). In the Sacrament of the Holy Eucharist, Jesus comes to stay with us, with you and with me. When we receive the Eucharist, we enter a profound communion with Jesus. We are then inspired to be “one heart and one soul”, the family of God. You and are inspired and called to be of one mind and one heart in our love for God, in our love for one another, and in our love, care, and concern for others. You and I become Jesus’ ministers of unity, love and peace in the world.

Our beloved Bishop John Stock walked closely with the Risen Jesus Christ bringing Christ’s unity, love and peace in the world where he served. He came to continually recognize the Risen Lord in the Holy Eucharist. He received the interior strength needed to fulfill his call to be an active missionary in the world. Bishop John Stock’s kind and gentle personality, his care and concern for the welfare of God’s people, his dedicated and selfless service in the Church all reflected his emulating the Risen Christ in his life.

On the night when Jesus instituted the Holy Eucharist, Jesus was rejected by his apostles – first by his betrayer Judas, and then with the denial three times by the apostle Peter, and then abandoned by his closest friends. Yet, despite the deep hurt of rejection, Jesus moves forth to give the ultimate sacrifice of his life for our sins. Jesus’ closeness with his heavenly Father enabled his fulfilling his mission on earth according to God’s plan for salvation. Our beloved Bishop John Stock also faced the rejection of some of his own people at the time of his ordination to the episcopate – by a small group of people who were lost in their fervent striving for their cause. Some of these people may have been from among the very persons whom the then Father John Stock assisted in coming to this land. Yet, Bishop John continued without holding malice or grievance against others in his ministry. This reflects how beautifully and how completely and how closely Bishop John Stock walked so closely with the Risen Christ. Bishop John Stock continued to joyfully serve the Risen Christ in his footsteps fulfilling the duties given to him following his ordination to the episcopacy in 1971. What was uppermost was his close journey with His Lord, the Risen Christ. Nothing could detract from his being centered upon Jesus Christ.

I also believe that the late Bishop John Stock lived a life filled with Eucharistic gratitude. His life reflected a heart filled with gratitude for the many gifts, skills and talents bestowed upon him by almighty God. And he used them without any reservation for the benefit of the people he was called to serve. Can you imagine the inner fears and doubts he may have felt when asked by Archbishop Senyshyn to travel to Europe and to reach out to the displaced Ukrainians? Yet, he obediently complied and performed miraculous works with the aid of God.

Jesus taught that “if anyone would be first, he must be last of all and servant of all” (Mk 9:35) The Gospel of St. John does not contain the account of the institution of the Eucharist. Instead it relates the washing of feet (Jn 13:1-20). By bending down to wash the feet of his disciples, Jesus explains so vividly the meaning of the Eucharist. Being Eucharist people, sharing in the Body and Blood of our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ, means sharing in charity with the misfortunate, with those facing all sorts of needs.

The life of our beloved late Bishop John Stock richly reflects a “Eucharistic” attitude of gratitude and of humbling oneself in the service of others. This is the man who Bishop John Stock was as a priest and then Bishop until his untimely death on June 29th, 1972. Many people admired him. Many loved him. Many were inspired by his gentle and warm personality. Many were gifted with a life-giving example of a life well-lived. Many were taught and guided by his Christ-like manner of fulfilling of his priestly and Episcopal ministry. Many to this day have great gratitude to him.

Perhaps the best way each of us can express gratitude and to give testimony to the contributions of such a significant person is to emulate what we admire in his character and personality in our own life. Reflect how you yourself bear witness to God in your daily life. Are we grateful people? Do you and I live out our daily life with a genuine spirit of gratitude to God? Does the journey of your life, my life reflect a close walk with the Risen Jesus Christ? Do we celebrate genuine humility in our relations with others? Does our life reflect the service of others in their needs, especially at a time of special needs? You and I can be elevated in our journey of life with the example given to us by the late Bishop John Stock.

Let us continue to pray with hearts filled with gratitude for the inspiring life and giftedness of the late Bishop John Stock amidst us. Let us pray for his soul that he may be forgiven of any sins committed in weakness or frailty. And let us pray that our beloved Bishop John Stock has heard that beautiful commendation by Jesus given to the repentant man on the cross, “Today, you will be in paradise with me”. And let each of us, in our profound gratitude, renew ourselves in our life emulating the characteristics we have come to admire in the life well lived by Bishop John Stock.

A Weekend With the Sisters of Saint Basil the Great

I recently attended, shall I call it, an exploratory weekend with the Sisters of the St. Basil in Jenkintown, PA. Having been interested in but not yet called to a community of prayer I was excited to see how real-live Sisters lived. I still carried in my head the images of fully habited, soft-spoken women kneeling in prayer 18 hours a day. I think perhaps that people who don’t have contact with organized religions on a regular basis adopt the misconception that religious communities are characterized by an old-fashioned lifestyle. So I was mildly surprised when my contact Sr. Ann emailed me her cell phone number in case I got lost driving to the campus. Even knowing that adaptation is a reason why so many Convents and Monasteries still exist, I was surprised at the level of balance the Sisters achieved between prayer and being social, active participants in the community.

I arrived on Friday in time to participate in Vespers (evening prayer) and the Liturgy of the Pre-Sanctified Gifts in the Chapel filled floor to ceiling with beautiful icons. The prayers were chanted in Ukrainian and filled the room with weaving melodies of 35 Sisters lifting their voices in unison to the Lord of All. As I fumbled through two (or was it three) prayer books in order to follow along, all I could think of was how beautiful it sounded. At dinner that night I met two of the three other curious, lovely, and smart participants. After the third joined us we watched a brief, captivating video made by the Sisters detailing the rise of the Order of St. Basil in the US.

We came to learn that the patron of the order, St. Basil instilled two main precepts in his followers: prayer and community. The Sisters admirably fill both requirements as they pray for and support the community outside the Monastery in a variety of roles, including teachers, administrators, and as pastoral caretakers. I hadn’t ever thought about what the Religious could bring to a secular community, I had always seen being a Sister as more of an internal, ongoing dialogue with God. In learning about how these women are living out Christ’s personal call to minister to their neighbors I really saw for the first time what the phrases “pray without ceasing” and “live life so that other may see Christ in you” looked like.

My new friends and I joined the Sisters in Vespers, Matins and Liturgy (in English so that we could fully participate) each day as well as prayers before meals. We had a tour of the buildings and around the grounds and we were able to sit with our guides Sr. Ann and Sr. Joann throughout the weekend who encouraged us to ask our questions as they and others shared their stories of living and working in the religious community.

A highlight for me was being able to have a fascinating sit-down with two Sisters who had come from Ukraine as part of, well, sort of an exchange program you could say. In the days after Communism released its grasp on the Ukraine, the religious orders who had been worshiping underground were able to come into the light. To help them organize and promote uniformity among their practices, Sisters in the US started to travel overseas to help their Sisters in Christ. We were riveted listening first-hand to Sr. Elisaveta tell her story of choosing to join the Sisters underground in a time when deviation from the State-sponsored religion meant isolation in a Siberian prison camp and usually death. She didn’t think herself brave as I do; she was just following the One who called to her soul.

By the end of the weekend I was both exhausted and exhilarated. I had seen Christ in my new friends and my heart was lightened when Sr. Lydia shared that she didn’t enter the Order until the age of 31, making my own 32 years seem like much less of a hurdle. I think Sr. Dia may have said it best though, when she shared that her calling was still a mystery to her and to listen for that knocking on your heart that may signal a life much different then you imagine for yourself. I think I may have felt some knocking on my heart this weekend and in the days since I’ve been “back to real life” I find myself in quiet moments remembering a joke, a hug, or the open-ended offer to come back and visit, something I already plan on doing.

WAY
The heartfelt congratulations of the hierarchy, clergy, religious and faithful of the Ukrainian Catholic Archeparchy of Philadelphia are offered to the Ukrainian Federation of America on the occasion of their 20th anniversary. This special 20th anniversary was celebrated with a gala reception held at the Ukrainian Educational and Cultural Center in Jenkintown, PA on Sunday, April 29th. The Alexander B. Chernyk Medal was bestowed upon a former Ambassador of Ukraine to the United States of America, His Excellency, Oleh Shamshur. Due to illness, the award was received by the ambassador’s daughter, Tetiana, who delivered a moving speech accepting the award.

Please see their internet site (www.ukrainianfederationofamerica.org) for great information on their many programs. They are described on their website: “The UFA brings hope to Ukrainians and others around the world through helpful care and crisis response. We do this by responding to areas of challenge for Ukraine and people of Ukrainian background, including Social Services, Humanitarian Aid, Health Care, Education, and Advocacy & Information.”
Missionary Priesthood

One of the joys of priesthood lies in the surprises that it brings. I am reminded one time of being with a potential seminary candidate at a coffee shop, discussing various things about the Ukrainian Catholic Church. As we were sipping our coffee, deep in conversation, a couple came up to us, and asked us if we were priests. I replied that I was and that the fellow with me was discerning a call to the priesthood. We invited the couple to sit with us and we talked about our Church, our faith, and what we believe with them for a good half hour. We ultimately parted ways, but not without them asking us where the nearest Ukrainian Catholic Church was so they could come and see what our Church was like. We gave them some information on our Churches in the local area and, after giving them a blessing, we parted ways.

I pray that this couple in question did indeed visit one of our churches and I hope that they were blessed to partake of our unique way of worship and prayer. You see, being a priest means being a missionary – to spread the word of God’s saving word to others in the world. Most importantly, we must be ready to INVITE people to come and explore our Ukrainian Catholic faith and heritage and take part in the spiritual treasure and beauty of our Church. In a way, we are all called to be missionaries and to evangelize those who may not know who we are or what we do. There is a great spiritual hunger, not only among our faithful, but among all the people of the world. A priest takes Jesus’s dictum to Peter (“Feed my sheep . . .”, Jn 21:17) very seriously – he sees not only his parishioners, but all people as sheep requiring spiritual food and care. Please pray for our priests, so that they may continue to spiritually nourish not only our own faithful, but all people of the world.

As Jesus went along, he saw a man blind from birth. His disciples asked him, “Rabbi, who sinned, this man or his parents, that he was born blind?” “Neither this man nor his parents sinned,” said Jesus, “but this happened so that the works of God might be displayed in him. As long as it is day, we must do the works of him who sent me. Night is coming, when no one can work. While I am in the world, I am the light of the world.” After saying this, he spit on the ground, made some mud with the saliva, and put it on the man’s eyes. “Go,” he told him, “wash in the Pool of Siloam” (this word means “Sent”). So the man went and washed, and came home seeing. His neighbors and those who had formerly seen him begging asked, “Isn’t this the same man who used to sit and beg?” Some claimed that he was. Others said, “No, he only looks like him.” But he himself insisted, “I am the man.” “How then were your eyes opened?” they asked. He replied, “The man they call Jesus made some mud and put it on my eyes. He told me to go to Siloam and wash. So I went and washed, and then I could see.” “Where is this man?” they asked him. “I don’t know,” he said. They brought to the Pharisees the man who had been blind. Now the day on which Jesus had made the mud and opened the man’s eyes was a Sabbath. Therefore the Pharisees also asked him how he had received his sight. “He put mud on my eyes,” the man replied, “and I washed, and now I see.” Some of the Pharisees said, “This man is not from God, for he does not keep the Sabbath.” But others asked, “How can a sinner perform such signs?” So they were divided. Then they turned again to the blind man, “What have you to say about him? It was your eyes he opened.” The man replied, “He is a prophet.” They still did not believe that he had been blind and had received his sight until they sent for the man’s parents. “Is this your son?” they asked. “Is this the one you say was born blind? How is it that now he can see?” “We know he is our son,” the parents answered, “and we know he was born blind. But how he can see now, or who opened his eyes, we don’t know. Ask him. He is of age; he will speak for himself.” His parents said this because they were afraid of the Jewish leaders, who already had decided that anyone who acknowledged that Jesus was the Messiah would be put out of the synagogue. That was why his parents said, “He is of age; ask him.” A second time they summoned the man who had been blind. “Give glory to God by telling the truth,” they said. “We know this man is a sinner.” He replied, “Whether he is a sinner or not, I don’t know. One thing I do know. I was blind but now I see!” Then they asked him, “What did he do to you? How did he open your eyes?” He answered, “I have told you already and you did not listen. Why do you want to hear it again? Do you want to become his disciples too?” Then they hurled insults at him and said, “You are this fellow’s disciple! We are disciples of Moses! We know that God spoke to Moses, but as for this fellow, we don’t even know where he comes from.” The man answered, “Now that is remarkable! You don’t know where he comes from, yet he opened my eyes. We know that God does not listen to sinners. He listens to the godly person who does his will. Nobody has ever heard of opening the eyes of a man born blind. If this man were not from God, he could do nothing.” To this they replied, “You were steeped in sin at birth; how dare you lecture us!” And they threw him out. Jesus heard that they had thrown him out, and when he found him, he said, “Do you believe in the Son of Man?” “Who is he, sir?” the man asked. “Tell me so that I may believe in him.” Jesus said, “You have now seen him; in fact, he is the one speaking with you.” Then the man said, “Lord, I believe,” and he worshiped him. (Jn.9, 1-38)

They all looked at him but they never saw him. He was the blind guy. Born that way. Day after day he sat and begged. They looked. They walked by. They wondered. But they never saw. He had never seen their faces until today. He had never seen his own face, his parents’ faces, a sunrise, the stars, his home, a smile until today. Before today it was as if he didn’t even exist. He was a life waiting to be born, a light waiting to shine, a word waiting to be spoken. Today he became a new creation, he was enlightened, he became a living testimony to the Son of Man but they still don’t see him. For some reason they are unable to see him.

The disciples look at him and see a theological question, “Rabbi, who sinned, this man or his parents, that he was born blind?” Their vision is distorted by the popular belief that suffering is caused by sin and you get what you deserve.

The neighbors looked but couldn’t see past the image of the way things had always been, a blind man sitting and begging. It’s all he had ever known. It’s all they had ever known. Blinded by disbelief they keep asking him, “How were your eyes opened?”

Two times the religious leaders call him in. Two times they interrogate him. Two times he gives glory to God. They cannot see the prophet, the man from God, that this formerly blind man now sees. They cannot see the new life, the new man, the new creation that bears testimony to the man from God. Two times they turn a blind eye to this man and his God. No one, as the saying goes, is more blind than he or she who chooses not to see. They have chosen power, rules, and boundaries over the truth and their eyes have grown dim.

Even this man’s own parents distance themselves from him. They can talk about their blind son but not about their seeing son. To see him, the enlightened son, meant they would have to tell the story. “We do not know how it is that now he sees, nor do we know who opened his eyes. Ask him; he is of age. He will speak for himself.” They deny what is right before their eyes. Fear does that. Fear keeps us from seeing a larger reality, from living with a larger vision. So we live with tunnel vision only seeing that one thing that we most fear.

They all looked but none saw him. If they saw him they would have to confront their own blindness. This man blind from birth is not just a single individual, he is every man, every woman. The only difference between him and all the others in today’s gospel is that he knows he is blind. Until we know we are blind we can never see with new eyes. “Surely we are not blind, are we?”

Blindness is not about the quality of our vision or the condition of our eyes. It is not about the darkness around us but, rather, the darkness within us. How we see others, what we see in the world, the way we see life is less about the objects of our seeing and more about ourselves. We do not see God, people, things, or circumstances as they are but as we are. Until our eyes are opened by Christ our seeing is really just a projection of ourselves onto the world. What we see and how we see manifest our inner world. They describe and point to the fears, attachments, and beliefs within us.

If we wish to see God, life, and others as they really are then we must attend to what is going on within us. True seeing begins in the heart not the eyes. We must begin to acknowledge the fears, attachments, and beliefs that live within us and how they have impaired our vision.

Think about a time when you were scared, really scared. Maybe it was about your marriage, your job, the illness of loved one. That fear had a way of blinding you. Fear rivets our attention on that thing we fear to the exclusion of everything else around us. That one thing is all we can think about, all that we can see. Fear narrows our world view and our vision becomes myopic, nearsighted to the point of exclusion.

Attachments are those things or people we think we must have to be happy. We can’t imagine life without them. We have convinced ourselves that our very existence in some way depends on them. The Bible calls them idols. Modern society calls them addictions. Regardless, we will inevitably look for and see only that which fosters and affirms our attachments and will turn a blind eye toward anything that threatens them. Our vision becomes selective.

We have probably all met someone who is so fanatical in his or her beliefs that he or she cannot see another point of view. He cannot look at any other possibility. She refuses to see other ways but her own. Not only have we met these people too often we are these people. We all have certain beliefs to which we cling. They offer the illusion of stability and security. So we no longer live in the real world, God’s world, but a world that we have created in our head.

The inner darkness of our fears, attachments, and beliefs is what keeps us from seeing. They cover our eyes like the mud on the eyes of the man born blind. In placing mud on the blind man’s eyes Jesus is holding before him the reality of his blindness. He wears thick black lenses of fear, attachments, and beliefs. We all do. Those who know this are sent to wash in the pool, to be re-created, and to see with new eyes. Once they were darkness but now in the Lord they are light. The rest will continue looking but never see, their faces caked with mud.

Don’t just look around. Look within. What do you see? Where is the mud of darkness in your life? Name that reality. Acknowledge it and then go wash. The mud of darkness always gives way to the light of Christ.
