- Initial assistance (week 1): at least 850 food packages, 128 sets of cleaning supplies and personal hygiene items; tons of cement and other building supplies were given away by the three eparchial Caritas organizations;

- Round II assistance: they need to provide more food, water, bedding, cleaning supplies, various building supplies, children's school supplies and clothing, furniture, home appliances (refrigerators, laundry washers, stoves – electric or gas); adult and child diapers, mattresses, etc.

- Priority is given to handicapped persons and large families;

- Our assistance to flood victims in Western Ukraine reaches people very fast, quality and no limit or restrictions (anyone can get it, no difference of religious affiliation) in Eparchy of Chernivtsi, Eparchy of Kolomyya and Archeparchy of Ivano-Frankivsk. Відповідно до потреб люди отримали цемент, клей будівельний, шпаклівку, ламінат та інші будівельні матеріали, 2 холодильники, 2 мікрохвильові пічки, газоблок, електричну кухонну плиту та ін. (детальніша інформація наведена у таблиці файлу ФІНАНСОВИЙ ЗВІТ)

66th Annual Holy Dormition/Assumption Pilgrimage 2020
 A Virtual Experience due to the Covid -19 Pandemic

Dear Pilgrims,

Due to the pandemic, our 66th Annual Holy Dormition/Assumption Pilgrimage will be a very different experience for you, our pilgrims, as well as for our Sisters and Clergy. Although physically separated from one another, we will remain “united” under the Omophor of the Mother of God, who we honor each year at this time. The holy grounds of Sloatsburg will be barren of pilgrims standing in lines for Confession, for the Healing of the Sick, for the spiritual nourishment of the Holy Eucharist, as well as standing in line for pyrohy and holubchi. However, the Sisters Servants hope to fill that “pilgrimage void” by coming into your homes through live-streaming the Divine Liturgies and other services throughout the Pilgrimage week.

The theme of this year’s Pilgrimage is “Mother of Tenderness, be our Strength.” If there was ever a time in our country and our world when we need the tenderness and strength of Our Lord and the Theotokos to help us respect, care for and support each other, it is NOW, during these challenging times!

Listed in this Special Issue, are the schedule of Pilgrimage services and the access links to them. We have also provided you with a form so that you may request a Divine Liturgy and/or light a candle for your special intentions. The request forms will also be available on-line on our website: www.ssmi-us.org.

IT'S ALL GREEK TO ME!

WITH FATHER SEBASTIAN

PENTECOST

We begin this month within the octave of the Feast of Pentecost. The name of the feast comes from the Greek pentēkōstē ēmera, meaning "Fiftieth Day." It is the fiftieth day from Passover (Pascha). In the Old Testament story of the final plague upon Egypt, God "passed over" the houses of the Israelites and spared them from death (Exod 12:11-14). The celebration of this event became an annual memorial thereafter known as "Passover." Fifty days from that first Passover, while at Mount Sinai, Israel received the Law of God on stone tablets (Exod 19-24). This event also became an annual celebration known as Pentecost. Christians celebrate these two feasts in their fulfillment.

During the Jewish Feast of Passover (Pascha), Jesus rose from the dead, and through his resurrection, all we Christians who receive his life-giving resurrected flesh and blood in the Holy Mystery of the Eucharist will also experience a life-giving Passover, as we will share in his bodily resurrection when He returns (John 6:53-54). Fifty days later, while the Jews were celebrating the Feast of Pentecost, remembering how they had received the Law at Mount Sinai, the Holy Spirit descended upon the new Israel, the gathered Apostles, placing the Law of God, not on stone tablets, but on the tablets of their hearts of flesh (Acts 2; Ezek 36:24-27; Jer 31:31-34).

There are many other English words that share the same Greek root with Pentecost: pentagon, meaning "five angled," Pentateuch, referring to the "five books of Moses," and pentarchy, "a government made up of five rulers." Can you think of any others? What do you think pentadactyl might mean? I'll give you a hint. Dactylos is the Greek word for finger!

Answer: An animal with five fingers on each hand or five toes on each foot.

REV. SEBASTIAN CARNAZZO, PHD IS PASTOR OF ST. ELIAS MELKITE CHURCH IN SAN JOSE, CA (STELIASMELKITE.ORG) AND TEACHES ONLINE GREEK CLASSES FOR KIDS THROUGH THE ACADEMY OF CLASSICAL GREEK (ACADEMYOFCLASSICALGREEK.COM).

FATHER VLADIMIR

•When you were a child did you know you would someday be called to religious life?

Strangely, yes. I felt a calling to the priesthood when I was about 10 years old. In Canada, we used to have a television program called "The Meeting Place" and they would travel to different churches all over Canada, visiting them and filming their worship services. That is where the seed got planted. And after that, I met an Orthodox priest while visiting my grandmother in the hospital, who blessed me and turned to my father and said, "Your son is going to be a priest". My dad laughed at him and said, oh, you kiddo or some such thing. It was an amazing prediction! I wanted to be so many other things, a teacher, a journalist...I was a cook and a baker too. But instead I became an iconographer, a monk and a priest. (This is all the more ironic as we weren't very strong church goers, being basically C&E Christians, adding the baptisms, weddings and funerals)

• What is your favorite thing about living in a monastery?

My favorite thing about living in the monastery is the routine. I lived in a monastery for 6.5 years in Finland. It is called, commonly, New Valamo Monastery. The day was very structured, with very little variation. Morning prayers and Matins, 6 AM. If there were a liturgy—the weekday liturgies were Wednesdays and Saturdays, normally, they would follow after. Lunch was 11 AM. 9th Hour, Vespers and Evening Prayers: 6 PM. Saturday evenings and on the eve of feast days, we would have Vigil. And Sundays there would be Liturgy at 9 AM. And again Vespers and Akathist at 6 PM on Sundays. The prayer cycle is so beautiful; the rhythm of daily life is so wonderful. And the other thing about being in a monastery is that you are praying together. You can support each other. Living outside a monastery on your own as a monk is tough sometimes, because the routine isn't always there: you have much to take care of because the world is always calling you, trying to disturb your peace. But God's grace is everywhere. When I do have a chance, however, I try to go back to my monastery in Finland and "recharge my monastic batteries".

"Go to church. Say your prayers. And never ever forget God". That was the advice that Fr. Thomas Hopko's grandmother—both of whom are of blessed memory—taught him. Always remember you are not alone, God is with you, beside you, inside you. Inspiring you to pray. When you can go to communion, go as often as you can. Be prepared as best as you can to receive His body and blood. And pray. God is our best friend and never abandons us. Even when we think He isn't there, He is. And remember that He loves us, no matter what. Nothing can separate us from the love of God.

ABOUNA MOSES

•When you were a child did you know you would someday be called to religious life?

From about the age of 8 I had a pretty good idea that I wanted to be a monk. I also wanted to be a chef though. Thankfully God allowed me to do both and now I get to use my culinary skills in the monastery.

• What is your favorite thing about living in a monastery?

Having the time to pray, both the daily services and private prayer.

•What advice would you have for our young readers to help them grow a strong relationship with God?

Abbot Nicholas often reminds us that the two most important things we as monastics must practice is "say your prayers, and love your brothers". I think this is good advice for everyone, monks, nuns, and families.

• Are there any other thoughts you'd like to share with the children who will read our publication?

Always keep yourself open to God's call. Pray always!

• Are there any other thoughts you'd like to share with the children who will read our publication?

Read the lives of the saints. They are good examples for us of people who love God and who lived a life pleasing to God. Many of them have surprising beginnings: you might not have thought they would have started out the way they did, but they ended up being glorified by the Church! Monastic Saints, Warrior Saints, and Everyday Saints: they are all examples for us. And I think what you will learn is: every saint has a past, and every sinner has a future.

Let's learn about Monastic life

CARRIE CHUFF

•When you were a child did you know you would someday be called to religious life?

When I was in high school, many years ago, I felt called to give my life to God. I spent those years praying and discerning, with the help of my spiritual father, whether or not God was calling me to serve Him as a religious. By the time I graduated, I knew that I had to try it. So, three months after high school graduation, I left my family and entered a community of religious Sisters.

• What is your favorite thing about living in a convent?

Living in the convent was a wonderful experience. I learned so much about our holy faith, and I learned so much about myself, too. I loved to spend so much of the day in prayer with the other Sisters, and in silence, contemplating the Holy Mysteries of God. We had daily chores and duties, and I learned many wonderful life skills. Life in the convent wasn't always easy, to be sure, but I am so glad I got to spend some of my life there. It was a time like no other, and something that not many people get to experience.

•What advice would you have for our young readers to help them grow a strong relationship with God?

After a few years, however, it became clear that this life, though beautiful in so many ways, was not the life to which God was calling me. After much prayer, discernment, and spiritual direction, I made the decision to leave. That decision was a very difficult one to make, but it was something that I knew I needed to do, and I abandoned myself to God, trusting that He would guide me through the process. And He did! Today I am happily living my true vocation as a wife and mother.

• Are there any other thoughts you'd like to share with the children who will read our publication?

Why do I tell people my story, if I didn't stay in the convent after all? Because I want you to know that if you think God might be calling you to be a nun or a monk, don't be afraid! Go forward and answer His call to the best of your ability. If that vocation is not meant for you, God will let you know. There is no harm in trying. If you stay, you will live a beautiful vocation dedicated to God, something the world truly needs today. But if you end up leaving, as I did, it will not be a failure; just another step toward discovering God's will for your life!

MOTHER MARIJA

•When you were a child did you know you would someday be called to religious life?

Holy Communion and the Sister who prepared us for receiving Our Lord was Sister Mary Carmela. She became my friend until (and after) I entered the cloister. She would tell me that I said to her When I grow up I am going to be a Sister like you. So since my first Holy Communion the thought of being a nun was with me. Sister Carmela was a teaching-Sister. I became a Carmelite- but she was Sister Carmela!

•What is your favorite thing about living in a monastery?

When a young girl becomes a nun she BELIEVES she is doing God's Will, This is what God wants of her- how to spend my life. This belief that in all the 74 years of my life I have been doing what God wants of me is what makes me happiest. That means that EVERY day I must accept God's Will, God's plan- be obedient to Him. Being a nun means I have a very practical way of living my FAITH that God loves me.

•What advice would you have for our young readers to help them grow a strong relationship with God?

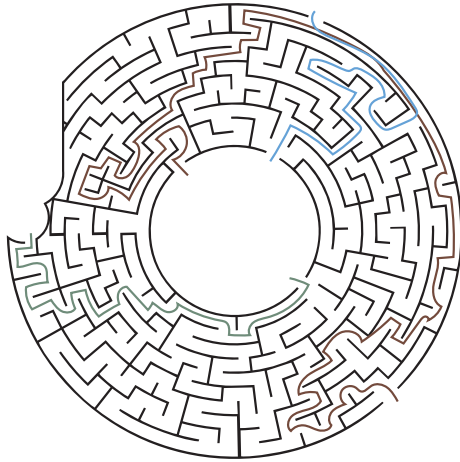

Pray- and pray to the Holy Spirit. Jesus died on the Cross to win for us the Holy Spirit, the Teacher, the Counselor. On Easter Evening Jesus came to the Apostles and said: Receive the Holy Spirit. Later on Pentecost the Holy Spirit was given to the Church.

•Are there any other thoughts you'd like to share with the children who will read our publication?

You know God the Father is your Creator. You were in His thoughts and love from all eternity. Jesus is your Redeemer and He wants you to be with Him forever - He will send the Holy Spirit to arrange every moment of your life to make you belong to Jesus. This is the TRUTH. Our Blessed Mother will help you EVERY DAY- pray to her and pray the Rosary. Every grace come to us through the Mother of God!

Arising from sleep, I thank You,
O Most Holy Trinity, that, for the sake of Your great kindness and longsuffering, You have not had indignation against me, for I am slothful and sinful. Neither have You destroyed me in my transgressions.
But You have shown Your customary

Do now enlighten the eyes of my

CUT ALONG THE DOTTED LINE

MEANWHILE...

After Jesus rose from the dead and ascended back to heaven, the Holy Spirit was sent to anoint the disciples and give them the courage to preach the Gospel to all the nations of the world, but some of those nations clearly didn't want to accept Christ's teachings.

Rulers, such as the Roman Emperor Diocletian, did not understand Christ's Kingship at all and saw the Christian way of life as a threat to their sovereignty, so they began to persecute the early Christians. Christianity became a dangerous undertaking, and those who lived as such had to be quite serious about their love for Christ, and many Christians who lived at this time became great saints. Later on, however, the Byzantine emperor Constantine made Christianity legal again by proclaiming the Edict of Milan in 313AD. This was wonderful!

People began to openly call themselves Christian again! It wasn't long, however, before people started to take their Christian faith for granted. It became effortless to call yourself a Christian, but not really live up to the teachings of Jesus as a true Christian should. It wasn't long before some people entered the Church, not because they loved Christ, and wanted to live according to His teachings, but simply to be popular! Those who were genuinely devout followers of Jesus at that time, people like St. Anthony the Great, became very discouraged at this and longed to separate themselves from such false friends. Hence, they took to the mountains where they could live a peaceful, solitary life of authentic prayer and repentance. These pioneer hermits became the very first monks and nuns.

The Paralysis of Sin

A Reflection for the Sixth Sunday after Pentecost

Gospel Reading Matthew (9:1-8)

The ability to walk has been a major concern of people of all ages throughout the history of humanity. Just think of how many people, perhaps even you or a relative or friend, have undergone knee or hip replacement surgery to assist in mobility and ease the pain of an arthritic condition. On television, we see advertisements to assist those who became amputees during the hostilities of war. The airwaves also constantly bombard us with a constant stream of commercials for arthritis medications and various types of walkers.

When Jesus walked the earth, being paralyzed was very debilitating to an individual. An afflicted individual could not earn a livelihood, was dependent on others for every need and had to endure a life of hardship and dependency.

All four evangelists, Matthew, Mark, Luke and John recount the miracle of Jesus healing a paralytic in their Gospel accounts, which clearly indicates the concern for those who suffered from the inability to walk.

And the Church Fathers in designating Gospel readings for the Sundays throughout the year, have chosen the healing of a paralytic on the Second Sunday of the Great Fast (Mark 2:1-12), the Fourth Paschal Sunday, the Sunday of the Paralytic (John 5:1-15), and today, the Sixth Sunday after Pentecost (Matthew 9:1-8). The Lucan account of the healing of the paralytic is read on the Saturday of the 18th week after Pentecost (Luke 5:17-26).

In today's Gospel, the paralytic is brought to Jesus by others. Listen to these words, "When Jesus saw their faith, he said to the paralytic, 'Courage, child, your sins are forgiven.'" (Mt. 9:2). Jesus noticed the faith of the people who literally carried the paralytic to Him, but instead of saying "get up and walk" He tells him, "your sins are forgiven."

The poor man is suffering from paralysis, yet Jesus emphasizes the greater suffering one endures from sin. This is the lesson Jesus is teaching us—that through Him, our sins can be forgiven. He says so explicitly, "But that you may know that the Son of Man has authority on earth to forgive sins"—he then said to the paralytic, 'Rise, pick up your stretcher, and go home.'" (Mt. 9:6).

In a sense, sin causes each of us to become a paralytic. It disrupts our relationship with our Creator as we turn away from Him and His laws. Paralyzed by sin, we cannot journey with God in this life until our ability to walk with God is restored by the forgiveness of our sins.

Avail yourself often of the Mystery of Penance, so that by the forgiveness of Jesus Christ, through the power given to His priests, you may walk with Jesus Christ on your journey to eternal life.

There is one other aspect in today's Gospel that deserves a brief comment. Jesus is healing a paralyzed man. Yet the Pharisees, those knowledgeable in the Jewish religious law, in their hearts are criticizing Him. Jesus is doing good and His actions are criticized by others.

How often in our lives do we act with good intentions, only to be criticized and misunderstood by others? It happens to all of us. We think we are doing good and someone comes along only to give us flack for our actions—whether in the workplace, at school, in our homes, and yes, even in our parishes.

During such times, we may experience hurt, disappointment,

discouragement, even an attitude of giving up, saying to ourselves, "What's the use?"

However, at such times, be encouraged by today's Gospel, remembering that even Jesus as He was doing good was criticized and misunderstood by others. And following the example of Jesus, continue to do good as you overcome the paralysis of sin and continue to walk with God throughout your life.

Saints Borys and Hlib, Prince-Martyrs (July 24, August 6)

One of the first saints canonized by the Ukrainian Church after the acceptance of Christianity were the pious martyrs, Prince Borys and Prince Hlib. They were the youngest sons of Volodymyr the Great. At baptism, they were named Roman and David.

Sviatopolk, an elder son of Prince Volodymyr, was the first to learn of his father's death. Devising a cunning plan, he decided to hide the news from his brother-princes, so that he (Sviatopolk) would begin to rule in Kyiv. When Borys returned home and heard the news of his father's death, he was very upset. When the soldiers under Borys' command learned of Sviatopolk's sinister plan, they asked their prince (Borys) to go to Kyiv and they would force Sviatopolk out of the city. Afterwards, they wanted Borys to sit on his father's throne. But the pious Prince Borys would not even think of going against his brother, Sviatopolk.

Sviatopolk remained sinister and sent messengers to Borys at night to kill him. As they approached Borys, they heard him praying. Seeing his murderers, Prince Borys did not interrupt his prayers nor try to run away. Attacking him like wild beasts, they killed him. Killing his brother Borys was not enough. Sviatopolk desired to get rid of all his brother-princes so that there would be no one to rival his power as the Grand Prince of Kyiv.

The next victim was the youngest prince, Hlib, who ruled in Murom. Those who knew Hlib and his qualities of modesty, gentleness and humility had come to love and respect the young prince. Receiving news from Sviatopolk that his father was ill, Hlib went with haste to see him. The sad news of Volodymyr's death was reported to Yaroslav by his sister, and Yaroslav informed Hlib. He also told Hlib about Borys's death. Although warned not to travel there, Hlib decided he would be willing to die as did Borys than be a deceptive ruler of this world.

The saintly Princes Borys and Hlib were the first canonized saints of Rus-Ukraine. The relics of the martyred princes healed many.

UKRAINIAN FOLK FESTIVALS

Celebrating the 29th AND 30th Anniversaries of Ukraine's Independence

Sunday, June 20, 2021 (Postponed from Sunday, Aug 23, 2020)

Ukrainian American Sport Center, Horsham, PA

Sunday, Aug 22, 2021

UASC Tryzub has Postponed its 29th Ukrainian Independence Day Festival from Sunday August 23, 2020 to Father's Day, June 20, 2021; the 30th Annual Festival will Follow on August 22, 2021

In order to safeguard the precious health and safety of its members, member families and volunteers, the communities that it serves, and the general public, Ukrainian American Sport Center – "Tryzub" has postponed this year's Ukrainian Independence Day Festival – the 29th annual, from Sunday, August 23, to Father's Day, Sunday, June 20 of next year, 2021. In addition to celebrating Ukraine's independence, the rescheduled festival promises also to celebrate freedom from the constraints and restrictions, with which the Coronavirus Pandemic has ensnared the community.

Note also that Tryzub's 30th Annual Festival celebrating Ukraine's Independence will still take place on its originally scheduled date of Sunday, August 22, 2021.

Although Tryzub anticipates that each of the two festivals in the year 2021 will proceed, according to the times, schedule and content that have become a tradition at Tryzub, legal constraints and concerns for health and safety may still (1) alter the ultimate date, content, program and/or format of one or both of them; (2) require special measures and procedures and/or (3) otherwise affect either or both festivals.

Also, Tryzub will make efforts to schedule some smaller, legally permissible and properly regulated for safety community gatherings and will announce same, as the summer progresses.

The readers are encouraged to visit Tryzub's website, www.tryzub.org, frequently for updates and additional information and clarifications. Or, you can email the Sport Center at info@tryzub.org. It is located at Lower State and County Line Rds., in Horsham, PA.

Head of UGCC urged Ministry of Health not to exclude religious and moral disciplines from curriculum

June 2, 2020

The Head of the Ukrainian Greek Catholic Church, His Beatitude Sviatoslav, expressed concern that in compliance with Decree No. 641 of the Ministry of Education and Science of Ukraine dated May 18, 2020, the commissions responsible for disciplines that have an impact on worldview formation shall be dismissed.

This is stated in a separate Address by the Head of the Church "the Future of our Church, Ukraine and the people depends on the education and upbringing of our children," the UGCC Information Department reports.

The appeal is directed to parents, caregivers and all people of good will who are engaged in raising children.

The appeal, in particular, refers to the Commission on Philosophical and Ideological disciplines, the Commission on Ethics and the Commission on Christian Ethics.

"We are deeply concerned that these changes may harm the quality and development of worldview subjects in the curricula of various levels and, as a result, will negate efforts aimed at the integral development of children and youth," the text notes.

The Primate recalls that for thirty years, religious and moral disciplines have been studied in secondary and higher educational institutions of Ukraine as a compulsory subject or as a subject of choice.

"Their introduction into educational programs was a requirement of Ukrainian society after the independence of Ukraine and the departure from the Communist-atheist worldview in the direction of democratic values, so that dignity and human rights are not only declared, but also realized. The improved quality of teaching these disciplines is the result of long-term efforts of Ukrainian citizens—parents, teachers, teaching faculty, religious and public organizations, Churches," His Beatitude Sviatoslav writes in his address.

He believes that the disciplines that impact the worldview formation, such as "the Foundations of Christian Ethics," "Christian Ethics in Ukrainian Culture", "Basics of Family", are the answer to the educational challenges facing Ukrainian society today.

The Head of the Church notes that parents have the right and duty to influence the content of the educational curriculum according to which their children study.

"Today we are experiencing," the Primate notes, "the times of anxiety, uncertainty, and change not only through the COVID 19 pandemic. This is also due to other factors: the war, economic, political, and spiritual and moral challenges that our society faces. At the same time, we see that the ways of cultivating cultural and ideological values that were formed by a thousand-year-old Christian tradition, which is the basis of Ukrainian identity, are being leveled. Instead, destructive ideologies and programs are being introduced that are alien to our culture, contradict Christian morality, and restrict human dignity and freedom."

His Beatitude Sviatoslav renews the consecration of the Church and the people to the Protection of the Theotokos in Zarvanytsia

July 20, 2020

On July 19, 2020, during the All-Ukrainian online pilgrimage to Zarvanytsia, His Beatitude Sviatoslav renewed the act of consecration of the Ukrainian people under the protection of the Most Holy Mother of God.

On this occasion, the Head of the Church recalled that the first who gave the Ukrainian people under the protection of the Theotokos was Yaroslav the Wise. "It was when he opened before the eyes of the Kyiv community an indestructible wall - Oranta, who stands with outstretched arms in prayer before the face of God. Interestingly, the inscription on it says that 'God is in the midst of her; she shall not be moved.' This is exactly the faith we hear about in today's Gospel," assured the Head of the UGCC.

"Twenty-five years ago," His Beatitude Sviatoslav recalled, "our predecessor Myroslav Ivan Lubachivsky renewed the act of consecration of Ukraine and the Church under the protection of the Mother of God here, in the retreat center in Zarvanytsia. At that time, more than a million pilgrims came here," he said.

According to His Beatitude Sviatoslav, from the perspective of time we understand that freedom and independence are God's gift for us. They are God's response to our parents' faith. "We also renewed a similar act of consecration on the eve of the Feast of the Theotokos in 2014. As you remember, Ukraine then lay defenseless and weakened in the face of the aggressor who was shedding blood in the Donbas and Crimea," added the spiritual leader of the Ukrainians.

"We see that the Blessed Virgin has covered us with a veil. God appeared to us and gave us strength. We remained united as the Church and the country."

The Head of the Church emphasized that now, hearing that the world is kneeling before the disease, we are kneeling before the miraculous icon of the Most Holy Virgin Mary. Such an act, in his opinion, will testify to our faith that God is ready to work a miracle here for us - those who believe.

"Our faith is manifested in the fact that God is among us. He is with us, and we will not be shaken, we will not kneel before anyone or anything," His Beatitude Sviatoslav said.

"Today, like friends of the relaxed, we bring in prayer all those who have asked us for it, all those who are fighting with the disease, especially our doctors who are 'at the forefront.' We bring all those who pray to God for joy, peace, justice, goodness, and health for their loved ones. Today we pray for peace, because we do not forget that Ukraine is still at war. May the Lord God, who is our peace, as the Apostle Paul says, listen to our prayers through the faith of His mother. And may He tell us today: rise, pick up your bed and go home," the Head of the Church added at the end.

The Head of the UGCC awarded the Metropolitan Andrey Sheptytsky Medal to Ivan Vasiunyk

Monday, 20 July 2020

On Sunday, July 19, 2020, during the All-Ukrainian pilgrimage to Zarvanytsia, the Father and Head of the Ukrainian Greek Catholic Church, His Beatitude Sviatoslav, presented Mr. Ivan Vasiunyk with the highest award of the UGCC, the Medal of Metropolitan Andrey Sheptytsky.

His Beatitude Sviatoslav recalled that this year our Church remembers Metropolitan Andrey Sheptytsky in prayers, as we celebrate the 155th anniversary of his birth. It was he who, says the Head of the UGCC, began to develop Zarvanytsia and organize pilgrimages here.

"Our Church has established the Medal of Metropolitan Andrey Sheptytsky as the highest award. Every year we give it to people who continue his work with the greatness of their thought and spirit. Today we confer this medal on a worthy man - Mr. Ivan Vasiunyk," the Father and Head of the UGCC emphasized.

According to the Patriarchal Letter, Mr. Vasiunyk was recognized for his "active public position in combating evil and selfless work in nurturing and protecting Christian values, for many years of sacrificial service as the Executive Chairman of the Committee of the Ukrainian Church which popularizes the personality of the new martyr of the XX century - Pastor of Maidanek Blessed Martyr Omelyan Kovch; for a firm position in defending the historical truth about our tragic past, including the Stalinist Holodomor of 1932-33, for the example of long-term dedicated service to the Church and the nation, which is based on Christian values and the social teachings of the righteous Metropolitan Andrey Sheptytsky."

"May the merciful Lord, according to the prayers of the righteous Andrey Sheptytsky, reward you a hundredfold for all your efforts and give you strength for further service," the Head of the Church wished in the text of the document.

"Thank you for the high assessment of my humble efforts. Allow me today to dedicate this highest award of the Church to our soldiers, who are defending Ukraine from the aggressor. Today I realize that the spiritual precepts of the righteous Metropolitan Andrey should be fulfilled even more strongly," said Mr. Ivan Vasiunyk in his speech of gratitude during the award ceremony.

"We have postponed the VII session of the Patriarchal Council, but the work of the Secretariat must continue," His Beatitude Sviatoslav

Friday, 10 July 2020

This was stated by His Beatitude Sviatoslav on July 9, 2020 during a regular online meeting with members of the Secretariat of the VII session of the Patriarchal Council of the Ukrainian Greek Catholic Church.

The Head of the UGCC expressed a desire to meet periodically online to continue working on the preparation for the VII session of the Council. According to him, the key point of activity is the contact with the eparchies and exarchates throughout the world.

Another topic of the online meeting was the life and work of the Church in the new reality of the "post-coronavirus world." His Beatitude Sviatoslav called to reflect on this together with the Synodal working group for the development of a UGCC pastoral strategy.

The Patriarchal (All-Church) Council ("Sobor") of the Ukrainian Greek Catholic Church on the topic of "Emigration, Settlement and Global Unity of the UGCC" was to take place August 26-29 of 2020 in Lviv, but due to the pandemic of COVID-19, it was postponed until the second half of 2021.

"We should not only hear God but obey Him," Head of the UGCC in the video project #clearly_about_complicated

Tuesday, 14 July 2020

Faith comes from hearing. The maturity of our personal faith in God depends on how deeply we can hear God's Word. This was emphasized by the Head of the UGCC in the ninth issue of the program His Beatitude Sviatoslav: #clearly_about_complicated

Its topic this time was listening prayer.

According to the Primate of the UGCC, the teacher of the prayer of listening is the holy prophet Elijah, who was able to recognize the presence of God in a light breeze.

The prophet was able to feel the presence of God, to open his spiritual ear and observe, listen to how the Lord God would appear and speak to him.

One way to pray and listen for us, Christians, is to pray with the Scriptures. His Beatitude Sviatoslav shared his thoughts on how to do it in the right way. According to him, one should start reading the Holy Scriptures by remaining in silence. Silence will help us enter into a personal relationship with the Lord God and be ready to listen to God, because the text of Scripture, as the Head of the Church noted, is "God's Word addressed to each of us personally at that moment, like a letter of love that only we can read, have the right to open and can fully understand."

The selected passage of the Scripture should be read three times. After each reading, you need to think about the meaning of the biblical words and ask yourself a few questions: What impressed me most about this passage? What does God want to say to me through these words? And how should I respond to God about what He has just said to me? The culmination of the prayerful reading of the Word of God is the moment of contemplation, in which we try to feel, understand, Who is the God who speaks to me personally?

His Beatitude Sviatoslav also noted that at the end of the listening prayer we should ask ourselves how we will put into practice what we heard during the prayer. "To listen also means to obey,” the Patriarch said. “Let’s learn to hear God and to obey Him, like the Immaculate Virgin Mary once did,” called the Head of the Church and added, “She can be for us a teacher of listening to God’s Word, a teacher of bearing it in our hearts and a teacher of the embodiment of God’s Word in our personal lives.”
